We have just enjoyed a lovely May weekend and now will probably get more May rains. Everything is green outside and my potted plants are bright and cheerful looking with bright blooms.

My guests for the weekend were my son, Jeff Gibbs, and our friend, Shawn Davidson of Hendersonville. I accompanied the boys Saturday to all the decorations we customarily attend. The Savannah Cemetery, Crump and Morris Chapel areas, were all maintained and several people were at each attending to loved one's graves.

We met Gaye at Savannah Cemetery and the younger people flowered the Handley plots while I sat in the vehicle watching. Following a fall in my home on Wednesday, my mobility is limited due to a broken left arm. It will heal, but it is certainly an inconvenience. I am blessed with attentive children, friends, and neighbors.

The descendants of F.E. and Harve Gibbs met at the home of Martha Ray Gibbs on Winding Ridge Road, in Adamsville on Saturday afternoon for a great picnic and reunion. After missing last year, a large group was present from several states to enjoy food, fun, and fellowship. The grill was handled by several of the younger men and colorful picnic tables were scattered on the spacious lawn. A corn

Linda White Staff Writer edwards@courieranywhere.com

LaRae Smiley Sliger is completing her responsibilities as Savannah Main Street director at the end of May.

LaRae Sliger

"LaRae's done an excellent job and we hate to see her go," said Savannah City Manager Garry Welch. "We intend to maintain the Main Street director position."

Sliger has accepted a position at the Hardin County Fire Department as deputy Emergency Management Agency director and is already getting trained in that position. She has been in fire and Emergency Medical Services since the early 2000s as a firefighter and paramedic. Sliger is replacing Marilyn White, who has been deputy EMA director for the past 36 years and is retiring June 4.

"I was blessed to be able to work with the City of Savannah. I loved working with Main Street, the Renaissance Committee and everybody involved with Main Street," said Sliger. "I hope to see the Main Street program continue to grow and I plan to stay involved by being a member on the Renaissance Committee."

Sliger says she is "looking forward to new challenges as deputy EMA director."

Local free Wi-Fi cafe, soup kitchen closes

Linda White Staff Writer edwards@courieranywhere.com

A free Wi-Fi cafe and soup kitchen in Savannah has closed its doors.

Hardin Connection, a non-profit ministry of Campground and Robertson Chapel United Methodist Churches, operated the cafe and Soup 4 Souls Saturdays for the last six months on Wayne Road. Murray Paul Gordon, church pastor, his wife Becky, and other volunteers ran the outreach.

Last week Hardin Connection had to close its doors because Gordon and his wife are being transferred to a new church, and Gordon says "there is no one able to take over the job of running Hardin Connection."

Gordon will be pastor at Antioch United Methodist Church in Leoma, Tennessee.

hole tournament was held and the children enjoyed a bouncy house. A great time was had by all.

I am told the congregation at Eureka United Methodist Church welcomed a new member Sunday. We are so proud to know our group is growing after the pandemic. Vaccinations are beginning to help things begin to get back to normal with attendance improving.

Happy late birthdays to Nancy Lumpkin on May 10, Becky Gibbs on May 14; Joyce Handley on May 22; Shawn Davidson on May 24; Blake Gibbs on May 26; Reba Sawner on May 30; and Kathy Crofts on May 31. May you each enjoy many more happy days.

Hannah Hutchenson was honored by her mom and dad, Gary and Geneva Mansell, with a graduation party at their home on Sunday afternoon. Congratulations to Hannah who is a 2021 graduate. She is making her home in Jackson and already has a job. Best wishes to all 2021 graduates.

A prayer from Psalms 63:7 "Because Thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of Thy wings I will rejoice." Thanks to Latonia Gilbert for sharing this encouragement.

Have a wonderful week and enjoy your family and friends! God bless each of you!
